MOORE SHOOTING,

But This Time it is In Other Counties.

All Quiet Yesterday At Empire, So Far as Heard In This City.

Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 16.—More lawlessness in the strike regions is reported, this time in both Hopkins and Webster counties. About midnight unknown persons fired about twenty shots in the vicinity of the Reinecke mines. Capt. Ellis, with two members of his detachment, chased the miscreants several miles through the woods, but they managed to escape.

Capt. Ellis attributes this trouble last night to irresponsible persons who wanted to create a little excitement.

Several shots were fired into the Providence mines last night and again early this morning. No damage was done.

The union camp at Providence was fired into early this morning. Several of the men had narrow escapes, one bullet striking a tree against which one of the men was leaning.

There were no new developments at Empire yesterday and all was reported quiet.

JAP SISK WON.

Fiddled His Way to Fame at Owensboro.

The old fiddlers' contest drew a large crowd to Temple street Tuesday night. The contest was so novel that there was general anxiety to witness it. There were about twenty-five old fiddlers in the contest, representing the counties of Hopkins, Christian, Muhlenberg and Daviess.

La Vega Clements was master of ceremonies.

There were two individual contests. The first contest was won by T. A. Brown, of Muhlenberg county, and the second contest by J. N. Sisk, of Christian. In the contest by counties Muhlenberg won, though it was so hard to decide between it and Hopkins that the judges requested the representatives of these two counties to appear and play the second time.

There was a spirited contest between Owensboro and White Plains, but the latter won.

The contest was gotten up and managed by W. F. Randle, of Hopkinsville, and the proceeds, which are handsome, will be devoted to purposes of charity.

PARALYTIC STROKE

Causes Death of a Prominent Christian County Planter.

As a result of a recent stroke of paralysis Mr. John W. Carter, a prominent and wealthy farmer of the Oak Grove neighborhood, died about noon Tuesday. He was 52 years old and a son of the late John M. Carter.

He was senior member of the grocery firm of Carter, Lackett & Scarborough, of Clarksville, and for several years spent the winter in that place.

Mr. Carter is survived by a widow, who was Miss Jennie Holloway.

The interment took place in the family burying ground, near Elmo, Wednesday afternoon.

RECEIPTS LIGHT.

Local Market Quiet and Firm—Sales All Private.

The local tobacco market was quiet and firm this week, with little change in quotations from those of last week. The sales were all private and were made up of nearly all kinds of the weed. Receipts were light.

LEXINGTON CHOSEN

For the Next Meeting of the Kentucky Synod.

Many Distinguished Men of the Presbyterian Church in Attendance.

The Synod of Kentucky which convened Tuesday night has been in session all the week and will adjourn to-day.

The sessions are held in the Ninth Street Presbyterian church and many distinguished divines in the State are present.

About 200 ministers and lay delegates are in attendance, and many visitors. All have been hospitably entertained in the homes of citizens of all denominations.

There are 195 churches in the Synod, 119 ministers and 31,637 communicants. There are five presbyteries in the Synod.

The body organized by the election of Judge Shackelford Miller, of Louisville, Moderator and the following clerks:

Stated Clerk, Rev. L. H. Blanton, of Danville.

Recording Clerk, Rev. L. O. Spencer, of Henderson.

Reading Clerk, Rev. J. C. Caldwell, of Morganfield.

On Wednesday standing committees were announced and business meetings held morning and evening. Rev. Dr. Jos. Lumpkin delivered an address on Education. At the night session reports of committees were received.

Yesterday two more business sessions were held, and Lexington was chosen as the next place of meeting.

Last night Rev. Eugene Bell of Korea, and Rev. R. B. Grinnan, of Brazil, made popular talks on foreign missions.

LOST TWO FINGERS.

Ax Flew Fifteen Feet and Cut Them Off.

Tom Steger a little thirteen years old son of Mr. J. T. Steger, of Beverly, lost three fingers of his right hand in a very unusual accident last Saturday. His father was splitting a piece of timber with an ax, and let the ax slip from his hands as he raised it over his head. The boy was fifteen feet behind his father with his hand resting on a log. The ax flew through the air and struck the boy's hand, severing the fingers. The forefinger and the one next to it were cut entirely off. The third one was badly lacerated, but Dr. J. E. Stong who was called in, succeeded in saving it.

DOCTORS DON'T KNOW

Just Why the Assassin's Bullet Proved Fatal to McKinley.

New York, Oct. 15.—The physicians and surgeons who attended President McKinley today presented to the State Medical society, in session here, a report covering the medical and surgical history of the case of the martyred statesman. Dr. Mann described the symptoms and treatment. He could not tell the cause of the president's death. The president's age, lack of exercise and weak heart were among the contributory causes.

Get the Most
Out of Your Food

You don't and can't if your stomach is weak. A weak stomach does not digest all that is ordinarily taken into it.
It gets tired easily, and what it fails to digest is wasted.

Among the signs of a weak stomach
are uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, and disagreeable belching.

"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla at different times for stomach troubles, and a run down condition of the system, and have been greatly benefited by its use. I would not be without it in my family. I am trou-ach and nausea and find Hood's Sarsaparilla irresistible." E. B. LICKLAW, W. Chester, Pa.

Was Verdict of Jury in Monahan Case.Many Indictments Returned This Week And Grand Jury May Adjourn Yesterday.

The jury in the case of Thos.
Monahan, charged with criminal assault, returned a verdict of not guilty and the prisoner was discharged from custody. He had been in jail here for several months.
Common law matters have been claiming the attention of the court
since Tuesday.

The grand jury returned another big batch of indictments the first of the week.

Among the true bills returned
was one against Jake Williams charging willful murder. The other indictments are for minor offenses mostly, such as gaming, carrying concealed deadly weapons, selling liquor without license, furnishing liquor to minor, selling liquor to minor, etc.

Ross Stewart and Napoleon
Braaher were indicted on a charge
of disturbing public worship.
A bill was found against James Gresham, charging malicious cutting.

An indictment was returned,
yesterday against Robert Randolph, col., for murder.

GALLANT SOLDIER BOY.

Body of John McDaniel Brought Home For Interment.

The remains of John T. McDaniel
are expected to arrive to day from San Francisco. He was a soldier in Co. K, 31st Infantry and died in the Philippines July 18, 1898, of dysentery. He was buried temporarily at Davao, on the island of Mindanao, and recently disinter-red and the body brought home
for final interment.

Mr. McDaniel was a gallant young soldier, a son of Capt. R. T.
McDaniel, of this city. He was about 21 years of age.

The body was shipped from San Francisco last Friday night. As it did not arrive yesterday, it is looked for to-day from the South.
The final interment will be in Hopewell Cemetery.

RINGSTER'S DIARY.

More Information Picked up

Careless With Its Private Papers—Secrets Secured By Detectives.

Some of the boys have been abus-ing me for being careless with my last report. It seems a fusion defective got hold of my records and printed a few things that we were not just ready to norate around.
But how could I know that my private records would get into the newspapers? It mystifies me to think how they got hold of them.
There must be a leak somewhere in official circles.

The Ring has been worried a good deal of late because The Major, the colored organ, hasn't heard of the coming election and the fearful fix we are in. We have two bank directors on our ticket,
but Arthur Banks, the colored editor, will not let them direct him.
It seems we hurt his feelings last summer when we were forced to run our rock crusher over him and Esq. Bill Long, in order, to take care of Tom Williamson.

Dave Smith continues to give us a world of trouble. We sent one of the boys out not long ago to circulate a story that Smith carried the turnpike question by failing to sign the certificate in the precinct in which he was an officer of the election last year. As we are hard up for votes in the North, we thought the lie would fool a few anti turnpike men, but Smith was too wide awake for us. It took him less than two days to find out all about it and he very promptly proved that John Prowse sent out incomplete certificates to all the precincts and that the officers signed everything Prowse had printed in the poll books. Smith even went further and proved that Prowse failed to send for the missing returns
after the election board had adjournd two days and requested him by formal resolution to get the complete certificates, retained by the officers for their own use, and it furnished his office a list of the missing precincts. And that wasn't all. He showed that John Feland was present during the count as attorney for the turnpike lie. He not only nailed our lie, but put two of our main hands at walking the floor.

By-the-way, John Feland has never been able to explain to Mr.
Francis Cox, of Gracey, how he came to lose interest in his race for postmaster last summer while representing him as attorney. John is pretty slick, but I am afraid he has slipped up in his own grease in that Gracey affair.

Claude Clark is not showing the forgiving disposition that Bud Golay is. Claude can't be got on the stump for love nor money. We have exhausted every resource and he is still putting in his entire time selling groceries, when he might be helping us break up fusion meetings and winjamming at so much per jam. I believe he is going to stand by and see us all swept over the rapids without even throwing us a life preserver. He doesn't seem to realize that he ought not to have tried to get John Prowse's office until John got through with it.

Matt Jones worked a mean trick
on us at Newstead last Monday night. He let the Fusionists hold a big meeting in his tobacco factory and as it was private property we were afraid to break up the meeting while the grand jury was in session.

A new poll will be made at Gainesville to-morrow to see who will get the most colored votes
Judge Winfree or Will Fowler. It will be done to settle a bet.

I wish the confusion committee would make Lucian P'Pool cut off those red whiskers of his. Every time he comes to town those whiskers act on John Prowse like a red rag on a mad bull. Even the sublime confidence of Jim Rogers, who insists that our majority will be 2,000, can hardly keep John's nerves from going to pieces when he sees P'Pool taking things so easy.

We are not saying much about it,
but we are having a hard time to secure speakers among the colored orators this season. Wyatt Watt and Bob Lander are the only ones
we have to rely on and Wyatt is just in from making a confusion argument at Pembroke and Bob is so uncertain that Curt Braaher was afraid to trust him as an election officer this year, just as John Feland was in 1899 when he kicked against Bob Lander and the other
"nigger officers" appointed by the Democrats on the election board.

Our greatest political orator,
Hiram Smith, the "Black Demosthenes," who has been our strougest drawing card in every contest
for years, is not straining his voice
this year and when we sent a committee to find out what was the matter he said his throat was sore.
We need Hiram like the Texan needs a pistol. I am afraid he has lapsed into what Grover Cleveland used to call "innocuous desue-tude" and that his throat is not really sore to hurt.

And now Bill Fowler has gone
and Jonathan the ticket. In 1890 Dennis Perry beat Dr. Lillard, the colored Republican nominee for assessor, and the Fowler family supported him so loyally that Dennis is going to vote for Will this year.
And would you believe it, Will tore up plans the other day by having Dennis to travel over Lantrip's precinct with him and tell Demos-trates that he was for Will because Will's pa helped him beat a nigger in 1890? And just to think there are 3,500 negroes in Christian county whose votes Will can't do without. My! my! But Will is so young and inexperienced that the colored voters may overlook the break.
Otherwise his name is Dennis.

Things are looking better for us
this week. Will Fowler and Bob Lander spoke to an enthusiastic crowd of six voters and two little boys at White-Oak Grove Tuesday night and the same night Wyatt Watt, John Boyd and Lem Davis
had a crowd of twelve at Newstead.

Judge Winfree notified John Feland today this week that he had decided not to have any more private fusion meetings broken up and asked John to see the rest of us and promulgate his decision. We had intended to break up one at West Union Colored church Tuesday night, as raising Cain in colored churches is our "long suit." We couldn't get John Feland to go with us after Judge Winfree's little talk, but we broke it up all the same. We fixed it so the confusionists couldn't get the church.

The fusion candidates are down in Lantrip's this week and unless something is done to stop the stampede I am afraid by the time they get back all our gang except Jim Rogers will be sick and ready to withdraw. Jim dies harder than any of them.

HE MADE HIM PAY.

Slippery Customer for Once Was Obligated to Pay Spot Cash.

Some little time ago a carrier in the neighborhood of M— was engaged in removing the furniture of a certain well-known man of the district.

As the latter was a notoriously slippery customer Mr. C—, the carrier, personally superintended the unloading of the van, with an eye to the immediate settlement of his bill on completion.

Unfortunately he was called away on urgent business; but he intrusted the affair to one of his men, a very trustworthy fellow.

"Understand, Bill," he said, "you don't come away without the money on any account."

"Right," said Bill.

When the contents of the van were at length safely stowed in the home Bill approached about in his keen, alert way, and demanded payment.

"Is everything out in the van?" asked the latter, gazing eagerly in the van. "Ah, my friend, I can't pay you to-day, because I haven't got the money—not a farthing." And he looked at him with a slight triumph at his own imagined smartness.

"You think you're mighty clever, don't you?" said Bill, coolly, "waiting till we cleared out; but I reckon you didn't know what was left under the sackcloth there!" and he nodded carelessly inside the van.

"Ah, what's inside, then?" asked the man, in quick discomfiture, darting in.

"You!" roared Bill, as he slammed the door to and dropped the bar, with a chuckle.

Half an hour later he arrived home.

"Well, Bill," inquired his master, "got the money?"

"No," answered Bill, to his consternation, "but I've got the man."

The prisoner was already in such a state of collapse that he paid up on the spot.—London Tit-Bits.

A MISUNDERSTANDING.

Two Advertisements Got Shuffled on Going to Press.

It was not an unnatural mistake. One neighbor had advertised for a girl to do general housework. Another had announced in the same way that she would let her fine house, furnished during the summer. A lady called on the former of these the other morning and rang the front doorbell.

"Please step around to the side door," said the mistress, as she met the caller. The caller complied, and with a puzzled smile.

"I came in response to your advertisement," she began, when seated.

"Yes. You have references, I presume?"

"Certainly, if you require them," and the caller set her nose a little higher. "Does your house have all modern conveniences?"

"Everything. The kitchen is particularly well arranged and the laundry is complete. There is nothing old and worn, and that makes it nice. Where did you work last and what wages have you been getting?"

"Work last? Wages? I beg your pardon," and the caller's eyes looked dangerous. "I don't think you would suit me at all. I would like a conservatory and a billiard-room."

"Goodness gracious! And I suppose you'd want a private theater! You can't work for me."

"Madam, you advertise a house to let furnished, and when I come you insult me," and she started for the door.

"Then there was a hurried explanation, and, both being sensible women, they laughed till as a fit end to each had to take two cups of tea as a brace.—London Tit-Bits.

A man talks about owning his business. But, as a matter of fact, his business owns him. His whole life is regulated by the demands of it. The time at which he rises, his breakfast hour, the time given to meals, all are determined by business obligations. He rushes through lunch because he "can't spare the time from business" to eat leisurely. He won't take a rest because he is needed at the store or office. He is in fact an absolute slave to business. The results which follow this slavery have to be seen on every hand. Men dyspeptic, irritable, nervous, with drawn faces, and hollow eyes, sit at the desk or stand behind the counter until they collapse in a fit of sickness, or are taken away by heart failure. Those who cannot escape the exactions of business will find a friend in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, increases the action of the blood-making glands, increasing the vitality and physical vigor. It makes men strong and prevents those business break-downs which so often terminate fatally.

VISIONS OF HEAVEN.

Came Frequently to the Devout Men of the Seventeenth Century.

Most popular of all the legends of the middle ages, says the Gentleman's Magazine, is that of the seven years' pilgrimage of the Irish saint Brendan, the Shindal of Christianity, who set forth in a ship with his companions to seek the Islands of the Blessed upon the actual sea. Though it is rather the vision of Barlaam the hermit, that dwells in the memory, since it was he who lured St. Brendan to the quest by the tale of his own landing with his nephew on the happy shores. Eastward in this case also lay Paradise, "an island," to quote from Mr. Baring Gould, "wide and grassy, and bearing all manner of fruits, wherein was no night, for the Lord Jesus Christ was the light thereof." The two thods there, we are told, a long while without eating or drinking—"and when they returned to the monastery the brethren knew well where they had been, for the fragrance of Paradise lingered on their garments for nearly 40 days."

Franchise, light and music are among the chief characteristics of these visions. It may be recalled how these were also the frequent accompaniment of Buddha's transports. As when after he had obeyed the call of the Unseen Power and renounced earth's joys that he might live the divine life, the air about him was filled with falling roses, while music, multitudinous as the roll of waves upon the shore, sounded in his ears. Or, as when the whole universe appeared to him like a garden of fragrant blossoms, and a splendor of light overshadowed, piercing even to those very darkest recesses which according to the audacious imagery of the east, the united rays of seven suns would fail to penetrate.

St. Brendan was the uncle of another notable seer of the seventh century—that century so rich in visionary lore—St. Fursey, who fell, says Bede, into a trance, and, quitting his body from evening till cockcrow, "was found worthy to behold the pairs of angels and to hear the praises which are sung in Heaven," with stray echoes of which he afterward edified all Christendom.

A Library Center

In the four counties of western Massachusetts no less than 120 public libraries are in operation, containing $25,000 books. The towns where they are located have a population of 307,000. One of these libraries was started with money from a dog tax and another was begun with dollar contributions. Where a special building is lacking the books are cared for at the town hall, engine house, school or the residence of some public-spirited citizen. Some librarians give their time without salary. In several cases the pay is from five dollars to $30 a year. One librarian bought a book with her own money, charged two cents a day for its use until the cost was covered and then put the book in the public collection. The will and the way on the library question have got together in Massachusetts.

Why Osteopathy is Popular.

It is a fact that the Osteopathy, in a few weeks or months obtains a standing with the best people in the community that it would take a physician years to acquire.

The reasons for this are many and obvious. In the first place, the theory of the science of osteopathy is a rational and common sense one. There is nothing vague, mysterious, or occult about it, but being based upon the laws of nature it commands itself to the unprepared and thinking mind.

Another thing that tends to popularize it is the plain and reasonable system of charges usually adopted by the osteopathy a system whereby the patient is enabled to tell approximately what it is going to cost him to regain his health. The treatment is undertaken with the knowledge that there will be no bill for medicine, extra visits, etc., at the final reckoning.

Almost everybody dislikes to take medicine. There is hardly an adult to be found who has not many times been depressed and sickened by heroic doses of drugs, and as the Irishman expressed it, "felt sick a long time after he got well." If osteopathy did nothing but abolish experimental doses of poisonous drugs and curtail the number of surgical operations, it would be worthy of the gratitude of countless sufferers.

And finally, osteopathy has loyal defenders and warm adherents among all classes because of results attained by its practitioners. "Nothing succeeds like success."

What the invalid wants is to get well. He is not so much interested in the name of the school of healing to which his doctor belongs as he is in the fact that he can do what he claims to do. It is by this standard that osteopathy asks to be judged. While the claim is not made for it that it is a cure-all or that it has eliminated death from the world, yet the fact remains that it has brought health and vigor to the body and cheer to the heart of many an invalid from whom all hope had vanished.

These are but a few of the reasons why Osteopathy has firm, loyal friends wherever it has been introduced by competent and conscientious Osteopaths. If you are sick and suffering try Osteopathy. If you desire the most profitable profession try Osteopathy. For free literature address the SOUTHERN SCHOOL OF OSTEOPATHY, (Incorporated), Franklin, Ky.

Another School Fail

Another public school fail is making headway in the west. This is basket making. It originated in Minneapolis, and is to be tried in Chicago. Its basis is the idea that the childhood of an individual is similar in its impulses to the childhood of the race. The board of education grew enthusiastic over the beautiful glove boxes and flower pot holders which were made by the school children, and appropriated $3,000 to buy materials and pay for instruction in rattan basket making in the first four grades of the schools. There is a practical side to the matter, according to the Minneapolis leader of the fad. "One little girl," she says, "sold several of her baskets at 50 cents apiece, and took orders for a number more. She brought nine dollars home to her mother, a hard-working washerwoman, and perhaps you can imagine the little thing's joy and pride."—N. Y. Post.

A New China

An entirely new china has just been introduced into London under the name of Eoson Aurore. It comes from Bohemia, and has been awarded medals at several exhibitions. Its chief characteristic is the exquisite luster which is produced on the surface, giving it a metallic appearance. The prevailing colors of the ware are deep purple, crimson and orange with a dull bronze sheen. The designs are mostly in the nouveau style.

DEAD IN HIS TRACKS.

John Ford, a Hotel Waiter, Killed Wednesday Evening.

Robert Randolph, Another Negro
Boy His Slayer—Case Being Investigated.

John Ford, a young colored youth, about 20 years old, a waiter in the Phoenix Hotel, was shot and instantly killed in the kitchen of the hotel about 7 o'clock Wednesday evening.

The killing was done by Robert Randolph, another negro about the same age. The Randolph boy had a pistol in his pocket and a short while before appeared at the window and pointed it at Ford. The latter dodged and got out of sight. Randolph walked on up the street, but soon returned and got in at the kitchen window, which is on the pavement. Ford was washing dishes and cleaning silverware at the kitchen table.

Randolph still had the pistol in his hand and same one told him to put it up and not be fooling with it in the kitchen, or some one would get hurt. Randolph remarked that he had taken the loads out of the pistol and wanted to fool Ford. He then turned to Ford and fired the pistol, the bullet entering Ford's neck, who fell dead in the kitchen.

Randolph exclaimed "Oh have I killed him? What must I do?" Getting out on the street he went moaning up the street to a place on Nineteenth street, where he was arrested at midnight and placed in the lockup.

County Judge Cassler, in the absence of the Coroner, held an inquest at 8 o'clock, after which the body was removed. The verdict of the jury was that the killing was done with murderous intent. The grand jury being in session at once took up the investigation of the matter.

PRINCETON PRESBYTERY.

The Next Meeting Will Be Held
At Sturgis, Ky.

The Princeton Presbytery of the C. P. church held its fall session at Bayou Creek, in Livingston Co., October 8th to 10th.

The opening sermon was preached by Rev. H. C. Temple, of Princeton, Ky.

There were fourteen congregations represented and eight ordained ministers present. The sermons during the presbytery were of a high order and full of spiritual power. Tuesday was spent in the Elder's and Deacon's Association. The discussion was on the subject of giving to the Lord and was full of interest. Wednesday afternoon was spent in an interesting Sunday School Institute.

The Stated Clerk reported that one of our ministers, Rev. James Wilson, of Madisonville, had died since the last presbytery. Rev. E. C. Leeper was ordained to the full work of the ministry. An earnest appeal was made to the churches to support our worn-out ministers and their families through the Board of Ministerial Relief. Solicitors are to be appointed in every congregation to try to raise $300 annually for the education of the young men of the Presbytery.

Quite a number of churches were censured for not sending up their church books to be examined. Temperance and the observance of the Sabbath were emphasized in very strong terms. The members were urged to take our church paper and to buy and read same, at least, of our many good books.

The mission work was emphasized and the first week in November beginning with the first Sunday was set apart as a week of self-denial and prayer for foreign missions. A committee was appointed to hold Sunday-school conventions and institutes and a reading course for Sunday-school teachers was ordered to be printed in the minutes. The next meeting of Presbytery will be held at Sturgis, in Union county.

Address to the Voters of Longview District.

TO THE VOTERS OF LONGVIEW MAGISTERIAL DISTRICT, No 4, CHRISTIAN COUNTY, KY:

Being impossible to see all the voters of the District, I take this method of reaching them and asking their support for re-election to the office of Magistrate, having been solicited by many of my fellow-citizens, irrespective of party, to allow the use of my name for said place. Should I be re-elected I shall serve you faithfully, looking ever to the interests of my native county. My paternal and maternal ancestors were among the first settlers of the county a hundred years ago, when it was a wilderness. Bound to me by hooks of steel because of these ties, I naturally feel a deep interest in the county's welfare. The issue, as I see it in this campaign for county officers, is the people against Rings, Combines and Bossism. But enough of a thing is enough. I have nothing personal against the combine Ring Ticket. They, many of them, have manipulated to hold the offices of the county for a number of years. Should their methods prevail they will continue to hold them at will. I take it that no voter, knowing their methods and having at heart the welfare of the county, can indorse their course.

Believing in Republican principles, I shall use all honorable means in my power to elect the Fusion Ticket, it being composed of honorable, competent men.
